

THE MUSEUM OF BRANDS, PACKAGING AND ADVERTISING

Special package for groups

Do you want to explore British brands, packaging and advertising? The Museum of Brands offers a unique opportunity to explore our collection from Victorian times to present day. To make your visit special and engaging this package includes a short talk, English tea and biscuits. We have also developed a new quiz for people to explore the local area in the context of branding, advertising and marketing which we will send to you when you place a booking.

To find out more about this package or make an advanced booking please contact Chloe (chloe@museumofbrands.com)

Details about this offer

Availability

This package is only available on Tuesday and Friday 10am-1pm max. 20 people. Advanced booking and pre-payment is essential.

What the offer includes

- English tea and biscuits from iconic British brands
- A short introduction to the Museum and the collection
- A taste of the first Museum of Brands collected item (Munchies)
- A visit to our collection of brands, packaging and advertising from Victorian times to present day
- The Museum of Brands own Portobello Road Activity Sheet
- 10% discount in our Museum Gift Shop

Price

Group of 10 people: £150
£7.50 for each extra person attending