STRATEGIC MEETINGS

Book your next leadership meeting, strategy day, or team workshop at the incredible Museum of Brands. Our grass-floored Conference Space can be set up to suit your needs and can accommodate between 8 and 100 guests. With loads of natural daylight, aircon, AV facilities, a balcony and dedicated breakout area, this space provides a comfortable and inspiring setting for a wide range of events. Combine your day with a visit to the Museum, where you can explore our collection showcasing 200 years of marketing, advertising trends and consumer culture. We offer plenty of healthy and sustainable lunch options to keep your team alert and focused on your company goals. Get in touch with our friendly team who can help plan every aspect of your event.

Did you know...?

- In the 1940s, women used PG Tips to dye their legs because nylon stockings were scarce
- The word “Marmite” is actually French for “casserole dish”
- Cadbury was the first company to sell chocolate in heart shaped boxes, with the first one produced in 1868
